Dear parents and carers,

Following our recent Ofsted inspection, I am pleased to share with you the final version of the inspection report.

The outcome from the inspection is fair and reflects the school's self-evaluation in terms of what is going well and what we intend to do to ensure Kelvedon St Mary's keeps getting better.

We are particularly proud of how the report reflects the children's positive attitudes and excitement towards learning. Our pupils are consistently respectful and polite, they behave well and show an eagerness to learn, which makes Kelvedon St Mary's an incredibly special school.

Our staff team are relentless in their pursuit to give every child the very best education. We are delighted our school curriculum has been identified as being well planned, with special recognition of our focus on prioritising reading and supporting all children to make progress. Our commitment to providing a strong start for our youngest pupils and a breadth of opportunities to promote children's Christian character and personal development was also highly commended.

The trust and governors have an accurate view of the school's strengths and the areas that they described as needing further development were confirmed by the inspection.

Thank you to the parents, who provided responses to Ofsted's online survey, these were reviewed as part of the inspection.

As we look towards the future, we are excited about embedding our well-planned curriculum to develop a consistent approach. We know this will enable pupils to graduate from Kelvedon St Mary's as critical thinkers and great communicators, who have a deep knowledge of subjects across the curriculum and are excited to keep on learning!

If you have any comments or questions regarding the inspection report, please do not hesitate to contact the school office.

Yours faithfully,

Lois Osborne
Executive Headteacher
